

Name: _____

The Friendship Shuffle

Situation	Question	Response
A group regularly plays basketball at lunchtime. You really enjoy playing basketball, too.	How can you go about joining in?
Your friend's family is going away for the whole summer vacation.	How might you stay in contact?
You're at a new school, and another student volunteers to give you a tour.	What can you talk about?
You are playing beach volleyball and need an extra player. You see some kids about your age swimming.	How can you get them to switch from swimming to volleyball?
At the arcade you want to play air hockey but don't have anyone to play against or enough tokens.	What can you do to try to get a game?
You would like to put together a band at your school.	What are some ways you could recruit people?
In your online chat room, someone mentions that she lives in the same area as you.	What could you talk about safely?
At school, some kids you don't know are talking about your favorite football team. It's clear they are fans, too.	How could you go about joining the conversation?
Your mom's friends meet at a park. One of them has a child around your age.	How can you get to know her?	