

Name: _____

Information Plus

1 Organize five other students, and form a group. Allocate a timekeeper, and allow your group five minutes to compile a list of as many questions as you can think of about your allocated topic.	2 Brainstorm three questions about your topic you think might be difficult to answer. Write them down.
3 There are always exciting and not-so-exciting aspects of exploring new topics. After consulting with your group, write down one of these for each category.	4 Assign a recorder, and ask him or her to list one thing each person in the group already knows about your allocated topic.
5 Brainstorm ways you could learn more about your topic. Make sure you list at least four ideas.	6 Discuss and record reasons your group thinks it will be beneficial to learn more about your topic.