Learner Self-Assessment for Tracking Progress on Collaboration 2.0

Criteria	I need clarification on what this means and looks like.	I am working on it but need ideas in order to get better.	I do this sometimes but need to work on doing this more intentionally.	I do this often and can articulate examples.	I do this consistently, with evidence of effectiveness.
Displaying curiosity: Inquires and asks questions to clarify, connect, and generate ideas
Listening: Actively hears, paraphrases, and summarizes others' ideas to deeply understand alternative or competing perspectives
Contributing: Offers new, radical, and sometimes unpopular views
Committing to work through conflict: Productively engages in and moves through conflict—does not avoid it or unnecessarily incite it for the sake of argument
Consensus building: Finds ways to compromise—balancing practicality and orthodoxy—to provide innovative solutions
Observing: Observes nonverbal and verbal words and actions to productively and honestly navigate dialogue, conflict, and conflicting ideas

Focusing on strengths: Capitalizes on the strengths of individual group members; presumes positive intentions
Focusing on goals: Positions the overall goal over an individual need to be right
Knowing what to do when you don't know: Embraces uncertainty with questions and a commitment to pursue information and next steps
Synthesizing: Explores and perseveres to synthesize large amounts of information or competing perspectives; blends ideas to co-create and innovate
Sourcing: Discerns the reliability of information through interrogating sources—authors' perspectives, organizations, funding sources, and other potential areas of bias; assesses a source's reliability, its realistic potential, and competing and contradictory reports that counter the source's main argument
