

Figure 6.33: Group Reflection Worksheet

Name: _____ Date: _____

Group: _____

Consider these questions during group reflection. Your answers should reflect your own thoughts and your group's input.

How do I think my learning is going so far?

Are there any areas I do really well in?

What is it about how I approach those areas that helps me to be successful?

Are there any areas in which I am not doing as well as I would like?

Why do I think I struggle in those areas that I don't do so well in?

How do the other members of my group approach those areas that I have trouble with?

Is there anything I can do differently that might help me to be more successful?

The next time I start to have trouble, I will:

Source: Adapted from Marzano Research. (2016). Marzano compendium of instructional strategies. Centennial, CO: Author.