

Learning Objectives Assessment Rubric

	Strongly Disagree	Disagree	Agree	Strongly Agree
The objectives contain compelling subject content.
The objectives help students frame specific questions.
The objectives imply that high-quality products must be produced by students.
The objectives will be judged with standards-based rubrics.
The objectives contribute to long-term, accumulative learning.
The objectives build in milestones to keep learning on track.
The objectives guide the delivery of instruction and evaluation of student learning.
The objectives help students focus on and set priorities.
The objectives make teaching more organized.
The objectives guide student self-assessment.
The objectives are congruent with the learning activities.
The objectives are congruent with the assessment.
The objectives incorporate student learning and development in subject knowledge, skills, and attitudes.
The objectives focus on higher-order thinking (such as application, analysis, creativity, and evaluation in Bloom's taxonomy).
The objectives are realistic and achievable.
The objectives are consistent with the goals of the curriculum.
The objectives are clearly stated.				