

Exercise: Participate in a Team Data-Inquiry Discussion

After grading their common formative assessments and entering data into the collection tool, teams are ready to discuss student results, share instructional strategies and ideas, and develop a responsive teaching plan.

Use the following questions to guide this exercise.

- What are the logistical plans for meeting together? For example, have we set a date and location for our team data discussion?

- Will team members be required to bring their students' assessment with them in case they need to reference them during the meeting?

- Will the team utilize a data discussion protocol to help teachers focus on student results in a safe, nonthreatening environment?

- Where will the team record their ideas for extending instruction for students who are ready to move ahead or providing scaffolds for students in need of additional support?
