

Personal Reflection

What types of nonverbal communication do you see from the children in your class?

What types of nonverbal communication do you use in your classroom?

What messages might each convey?

Do you and your colleagues have a way to support each other when you are seeing confusing nonverbal messages from the students in your class? How do you do this?